

The Journey of Electricity

Mini pillars

The last stage before the electricity goes into your home is the mini pillar, which looks like a grey metal box. These are normally located at the end of the street or in parks and they will have the yellow 'Danger of Death' sign, so you know to stay away from them.

Never attempt to force open a mini pillar or poke anything into it as you could be electrocuted.